8. [redacted] Jim Kronfeld, Staff Counsel, House 25X1
Government Operations Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Government Information, called and we discussed the handling of the Agency's need for an amendment to the right of privacy bill (H.R. 16373) to exempt us from the rule-making procedures under section 553 of Title 5, U.S.C. Kronfeld feels that a low-key House floor amendment would be best; however, if Representative Bella S. Abzug (D., N. Y.) carries out her threat, she may introduce an amendment which would make the Agency subject to all provisions of the bill. In that event the amendment offered by the Agency would have to meet Representative Abzug's objections and provide a full argument on the needs for the Agency to be exempted from most of the provisions. A third possibility we discussed would involve not taking any action on the House floor and to seek our amendment with the Senate Government Operations Committee when it considers the bill. We will not, however, have any opportunity on the Senate side if they consider the Senate privacy bill (S. 3418). We agreed that we would proceed with the first two actions.

9. [redacted] Attempted to see Jim Calloway, Senate 25X1
Appropriations Committee staff, but he was tied up in meetings so I left with his secretary an aide memoir covering our interest in the wiretapping hearings which Chairman McClellan's Subcommittee on Criminal Laws will be having tomorrow and Wednesday including comments on Senator Nelson's bill S. 2820.

10. [redacted] called Ed Braswell, Chief Counsel, Senate 25X1
Armed Services Committee, and briefed him on my meeting with Norvill Jones, staff of the Muskie Surveillance Subcommittee, last Friday concerning the questionnaire on electronic surveillance. I told Braswell that we were considering having Jones come to the Agency and review our draft response without giving him a copy and without permitting him to take any notes. Braswell said he could see nothing wrong with this and he felt our response had very little sensitive information in it anyway.

11. [] Met with Guy McConnell, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, and covered a number of items including a briefing on my meeting with Norvill Jones, of the Muskie Surveillance Subcommittee staff, last Friday, my conversation with Ed Braswell this morning and my intention to see Senator Symington as soon as possible in connection with our response to Jones' questionnaire. McConnell understood our position and seemed to agree we should try to figure out some solution to the problem short of flatly refusing to give any information to Jones.
